

MICRODIS Southeast Asia Photo Album

Vietnam / Philippines / Indonesia

Prepared by:
Citizens' Disaster Response Center
30 January 2010

Information given in this document reflects the authors' views only. The Community is not liable for any use that may be made of the information contained therein.

MICRODIS is funded by the European Community's Sixth Framework Programme

Table of Contents

Hanoi, Vietnam	3
Survey Site	3
Survey Preparations	7
Survey	9
Video Shoot	11
Quang Nam, Vietnam	14
Survey Site	14
Survey Preparations	17
Survey	20
Video Shoot	24
Southern Leyte, Philippines	26
Survey Site	26
Survey Preparations	28
Survey	29
Video Shoot	32
Albay, Philippines.....	34
Survey Site	34
Survey Preparations	37
Survey	40
Video Shoot	44
Bojonegoro, Indonesia.....	46
Survey Site	46
Survey Preparations	50
Survey	52
Video Shoot	55

Hanoi, Vietnam

Partner Institution: Hanoi School of Public Health (HSPH)

Survey Site

Photo from <http://suckhoegiadinhh.org/?p=1684>

Photo from http://www.tin247.com/nganh_khi_tuong_tieu_khong_het_tien_dau_tu-1-21345228.html

At least 22 people died during the historic flood in Hanoi in November 2008.

Photo from http://www.diemtin.com/Thoi-cuoc_4/Hai-huoc-ngay-ngap-lut_4_20393/

Photo from http://www.tin247.com/nguoi_ha_noi_dao_lon_cuoc_song_vi_mua_ngap-10-21327490.html

Residential houses and offices were not spared from the floods

Photo from <http://suckhoegiadinh.org/?p=1684>

Photo from <http://blog.yume.vn/xem-blog/ha-noi-lu-lut.daoxinnianhao.35A86BCB.html>

People had to make-do with homemade transportation during floods.

Photos from CDRC

Farming is the major economic activity in Chuong My, one of the survey sites in Hanoi

Survey Preparations

Photos from HSPH

Enumerators during a pre-test session of the survey questionnaire

Photos from HSPH

Enumerators undergoing training at the HSPH

Survey

Photos from HSPH

Enumerators interviewing respondents

Photos from HSPH

Enumerators checking the completed questionnaires at the end of each day

Video Shoot

Photos from CDRC

Conducting interviews with the people in the community

Photos from CDRC

The video production team Interviews the HSPH survey team

Photos from CDRC

The video production team gathering data and interviewing a university official

Quang Nam, Vietnam

Partner Institution: Hue College of Economics (HCE)

Survey Site

Photos from HCE

The project sites in upland and coastal districts of Quang Nam

Photos from HCE

People try to adapt to the annual floods by building mezzanines and two-storey cages for farm animals

Photos from CDRC

A temporary bamboo bridge was constructed after the 2007 flood destroyed the concrete bridge.

Survey Preparations

Photos from CDRC

Training workshop for the enumerators

Photos from CDRC

Pre-testing the questionnaire in the community

A respondent shares her disaster experience during a pre-test interview

Photos from CDRC

Paying courtesy call to a commune leader

Survey

The supervisor instructing enumerators before conducting daily interviews

Photos from HCE

During a key informant interview with a local official

Photos from HCE

Flash cards were utilized to better illustrate the questions

Photos from HCE

Conducting focus group discussions at the provincial and district levels

Photos from HCE

Focus group discussions at the local level

Video Shoot

Photos from CDRC

Interviewing the HCE survey team

Photos from CDRC

Gathering data and paying courtesy call to the commune leader

Southern Leyte, Philippines

Partner Institution: Xavier University (XU)

Survey Site

Photos from CDRC

In February 2006, a portion of Mt. Can-abag slipped and buried thousands of people in Brgy. Guinsaugon, St. Bernard, Southern Leyte

Photo from XU

Photo from CDRC

Mudslides caused by heavy rains and a minor earthquake almost completely levelled the village. Everything from trees to homes was destroyed, killing 1,800 of its 1,857 residents.

Survey Preparations

Photos from XU

Courtesy calls with local officials

Survey

Photos from XU

Enumerators on their way to the survey respondents

Photos from XU

Conducting survey interviews

Photos from XU

FGD sessions in the community

Video Shoot

Photos from CDRC

Interviewing the enumerators

Photos from CDRC

The Principal Investigator of the Philippine Country Team discusses the impact of disasters in the communities

Albay, Philippines

Partner Institution: Citizens' Disaster Response Center (CDRC)

Survey Site

Photos from Tarabang para sa Bicol (TABI)

Heavy rains during Typhoon Reming (Durian) in 2006 caused mudslides of volcanic ash boulders from the slopes of Mayon Volcano.

Photos from TABI

An estimated 1,000 people died during Typhoon Reming.

Photos from CDRC

The main economic activity in Albay is farming. There are also small-scale industries like handicraft-making.

Survey Preparations

Pre-test of survey questionnaire

Photos from CDRC

Courtesy call with the Provincial Governor of Albay

Photos from CDRC

Courtesy calls with the local town Mayors

Photos from CDRC

Gathering data from the Provincial Disaster Coordinating Council and the local offices

Survey

Photos from CDRC

Enumerators on the field

Photos from CDRC

Focus group discussions in the community

Survey interview in Polangui

Photos from CDRC

Conducting a sampling procedure

Photos from CDRC

Enumerators and village officials pose with the Microdis banner

Video Shoot

Photos from CDRC

Interviewing the local disaster council and a village official

Photos from CDRC

Getting feedback from the local people about the survey conducted in their community

Bojonegoro, Indonesia

Partner Institution: University of Indonesia (UoI)

Survey Site

Photos from CDRC

Bengawan Solo River's water level rose in 2007 due to heavy rain, especially in the upper valley of Central Java, Indonesia.

Photos from Mulyadi

The flood submerged 15 districts and displaced 2,715 families.

Photo from Mulyadi

Photo from CDRC

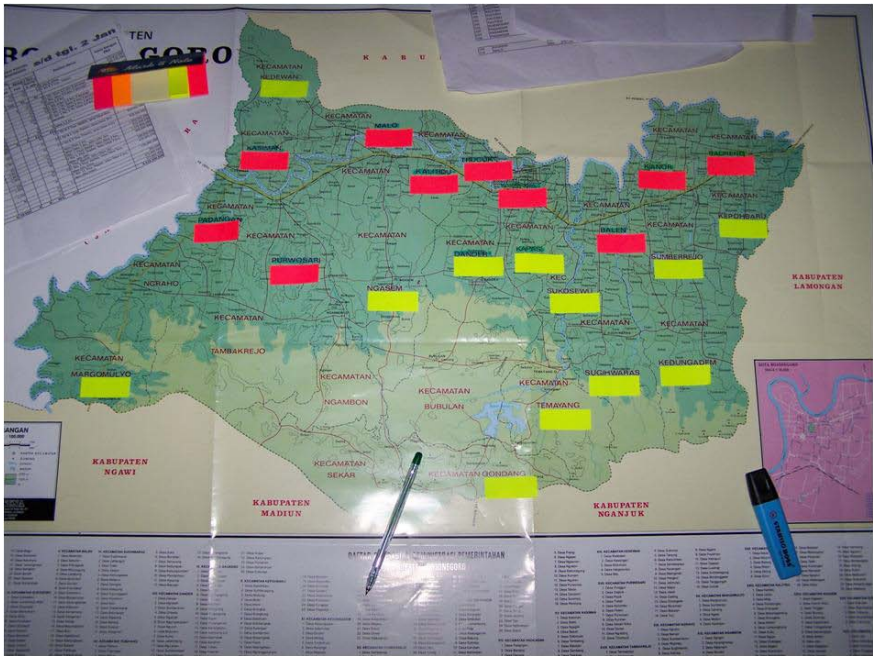

The flood destroyed 2.54 has of rice fields and crops

Photos from Uoi

Homes were destroyed as well

Survey Preparations

Selected survey sites marked

Photos from Uoi

Survey enumerators during training

Photos from Uoi

During in house and field training for anthropometric measurement

Survey

Photos from Uoi

Conducting survey interviews in the community

Focus group discussion with village members

Photos from UoI

Checking and editing the questionnaires at the end of the day

Photos from Uoi

Motorbikes are essential means of transportation for the enumerators

Video Shoot

Photos from CDRC

The survey team recounts their survey experience

Photos from CDRC

Talking to a university official and a local guide about the survey

Photos from CDRC

Gathering data from the principal investigator and a local official